Dear Sir: You will please discontinue our advertisement of the Sterling bicycle until you receive further instructions. It is simply impossible to supply the demand for them at the rate the factory has been shipping them to us. You may, however, fill up our three-inch space with a notice to the effect that we have twenty-five High Grade Remingtons and Crescent bicycles on hand that we will sell at cost. We are compelled to do this to make room for a carload of 99 Sterlings now in transit. We find it necessary to order them in carload lots in order that we may sell them at $50. We have cancelled all contracts for other makes of wheels and in the future will handle the Sterling exclusively. Yours truly,

MAY EXTEND THE WHARVES

HOW GOVERNMENT MAY GET DROP ON UNCLE SAM.

Significant Tip of Major Langfitt to Members of Chamber of Commerce—Extend and Then Talk About It.

Major Langfitt's recommendations to Washington, in relation to the lines of Honolulu harbor, are in conflict with the views of the chamber of commerce. That is to say the shore line of the harbor will cut off the extensions to Sorenson's, Nuuanu and Brewer wharves proposed by the chamber. Major Langfitt left behind him, however, an official statement that is of great importance. He said that it would be several months before his report would be reached by the war department. It might be several months later before it is acted upon. In the meantime, the major says, the thing for the Hawaiian government to do is to go ahead and build the proposed extensions. It is not believed for a moment that the war department will cut off the extensions so long as they are of real value to the shipping interests.

It seems to be that the authority of the board of survey was merely to investigate and recommend. There was not power to stop any work nor to alter any plans now under way. Not until the war department issues an official proclamation will the new harbor lines be established. Shipping agents who have heard of this statement, or unofficial recommendation of Major Langfitt to members of the chamber of commerce, are anxious for the Hawaiian government to make a move at once along this line left to it. As material has already been advertised for, it should be merely a matter of days until work might commence. Of course much depends upon the superintendent of public works, who may be found too busy in the pinch.

Resident Atherton thinks there is not need for another chamber of commerce meeting on the matter. The position of the body is well known and it is felt that the government should now act. Members of the chamber have informed members of the cabinet as to the position of Major Langfitt on the matter.

COLD BLOODED.

The question was asked in The Star the other day if there was any reason why fish do not come under the head of animals protected by the statute from needless suffering. Why should they be protected if they are cold blooded animals, and we are told that cold blooded ones do not suffer.

TRAINING SHIPS FOR BOYS

PROPOSED AS A SUBSTITUTE FOR REFORMATORIES.

An Experienced Navigator Makes a Suggestion in the Interest of the Rising Generation—His Plan.

Editor Star: In The Star of April 20, 1899, I read of "A Crying Need," in the way of industrial and reformatory schools for Hawaiian youth who are allowed to "grow up in our midst a hoodlum class, while we are spending money on higher culture and wrapping ourselves in a mantle of refinement and wealth."

How many and serious questions are suggested by such an article. To one reader the uppermost question raised is: Do reformatory schools reform? Another question suggested is: Is there nothing better to meet such needs in these modern times?

I have been thinking of a plan for a school ship for boys; ships for girls will not answer, and perhaps others can suggest some modern methods of reform for them.

For more than twenty years the writer has sailed from this port and most of the time with Hawaiian sailors, and it is now a disappointment to be obliged to sail with any other class of seamen. Give the Hawaiian boys a chance. Boys for a reform school have more of the necessary stuff to make men of than any other class. The question is how to make them useful. A boy is ordered to the reform school and to him it means going to jail.

The United States would for the asking detail for the use of these islands one of their old class of warships without charge. Let her headquarters be in this harbor. Let her object be known as a Pacific marine school, designed to train and educate boys for the sea.

Such a ship would have ample room to devote to healthful living quarters and large thoroughly equipped departments for educational work. A ship with sails (as well as steam) ought to be used, because those who are brought up to watch the winds and waves are better prepared to handle steamships; even though they have no masts nor sails.

Have proper officers and educators, non-political, a physician of reputation should attend the ship daily and accompany her on a cruise.

THE CALENDAR DELAYED.

There is an unusual delay in getting out the calendar for the May term of the circuit court. If it is off the press by Monday good work will have been done. At the higher court it is stated that the cause of delay is with the district clerks who have been slow in filing their papers.

SAILORS FIGHT.

First Mate Burke of the Fresno, assaulted the second mate of the same vessel this morning with a belaying pin. The injured man had his face quite badly cut and is otherwise used up.

FEARFUL PAUPERISM.

At the close of the last week of February there were within the London city limits close upon 119,000 paupers in receipt of regular relief. This number compares most unfavorably with the returns for a similar period during the three preceding years, when times were decidedly harder. Of the new total, 68,431 were classed as indoor paupers, as against 67,521 so classed last year. Besides these and the so called outdoor paupers, there were 1,114 vagrants, of whom 912 were men, 192 were women, and 10 children.

THE W. G. HALL.

The steamer W. G. Hall, from Kona and Kau, was sighted ten miles east at 2:40 o'clock.

THE TRANSPORTS.

It is beginning to be thought that the transports Hancock and Warren, formerly the Arizona and Scindia, have gone to Manila direct. They both had coal supplies sufficient for it.

FOR GALLANT CONDUCT.

There is a retired United States volunteer on the sugar ship Iroquois now here, who wears one of the medals struck off for gallant conduct in the battle of San Juan hill. He belonged to the District of Columbia regiment, had typhoid fever in Cuba and sailed around the Horn in search of health.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT PLAN

FIRST GAMES WILL BE PLAYED MAY 10TH.

Practice is Going on Briskly—Handsome Prizes are Offered—All the Clubs Stronger Than Last Year.

On the afternoon of May 10th, the weather permitting, the first games of the annual tennis tournament will be played, under the auspices of the Hawaiian Tennis Association.

Players from the Beretania, Pacific and Punahou clubs will compete and prizes have been offered for: Gentlemen's singles, Ladies' singles, Mixed doubles, and Ladies' doubles.

The entries will close at 5 p. m. on May 9th. The book for entries will be placed with the Hobron Drug Company on May 1st.

The association has ordered suitable cups to be offered as some of the prizes, and it is hoped these will be here before the date of the tournament, so they can be exhibited.

Practice among the players of the different clubs goes on in earnest, and from all appearances the games of this season will be quite interesting.

Since last year the Beretania club has increased its membership, the Pacific have added new blood, and the Punahou, with Professor Rabbitt's assistance, will have quite an entry.

The committee for this year's tournament call special attention to the rules, and the umpires will be instructed to enforce them. It is hoped every player, whether he be a veteran or a beginner in tournament, will peruse carefully the rules, for the few infringements made, the lighter will be the task of the umpire, linesman and referee. The hope of the committee is expressed in the following:

"If we play tennis, let us play it correctly, and adhere strictly to the rules. We have a reputation for clean and manly sport; let us keep it."

A club has just been organized in Hilo, and there is some probability that it will send representatives to play in the tournament. The tournament committee hopes it will.

BASEBALL LOOMING UP.

Prospects for Some Good Sport This Season.

There is still hope for baseball this year. Two teams are already in trim. The Sixth artillery have a good team, anxious to enter the local league. A leading player was asked about the matter today and said he would be very glad to confer with Al Moore or Mahuka on the subject. In all probability a meeting between the three captains will be arranged in a day or two.

If the League idea fails altogether a series of games will be played by the Kamehameha Alumni and school boys.

HAWAII RAILWAY.

Colonel Whyte Leaves to Study Its Tributary Territory.

Colonel Whyte left by the Kinau today for Hilo. He goes to look over the territory through which the new Hawaii railway will pass. He will look over the industrial, agricultural and commercial aspects of the region with a view to getting exact data on these points to be taken into consideration with the engineering features in determining the exact route and location of the road.

R. F. Dillingham expected to accompany Colonel Whyte on this trip, but other business prevented.

THE WEATHER.

Bureau, Punahou, 1:30 p. m. Wind light north, weather fine, probably light showers this evening. Morning minimum temperature 69; midday maximum 82; barometer, 30.1; rising; rainfall, .06; humidity, 69 per cent; dew, 66.

CURTIS J. LYONS, Observer.

MORRIS ESTATE DIVISION.

In the matter of Antonio Morris et al. vs. Joe Morris et al., bill for partition. Judge Perry has decreed that the lands in question shall be divided as follows: Antonio Morris and W. C. Achi, one-eighth each; Joe Morris, 1/4; Alana and Mile Morris, one-fourth each. M. D. Monsarrat is appointed commissioner to divide the lands. He is to examine the lands and then report to the court as to the way they be best divided.

SCHOOL OPENED TODAY.

The Palama school opened regularly this morning. The grades are all practically organized and the classes are down to business. Principal Armstrong Smith said this morning that an estimate of 300 pupils for the Spring term was below the mark. There are 400 children in the school today, with prospects of others.

MRS. TADEMA.

Mrs. Alma Tadeama, wife of the well known Royal Academician, wears all the latest fashions, and is a painter of her husband, both natural and acquired, and carried off the gold medal at Berlin three years ago.

GREAT SCARCITY OF RAW SILK. But no scarcity of the manufactured article as far as the Sachs Dry Goods Company is concerned. They are offering some lovely goods, all recent importations. Also a lot of pure silk French taffetas, for 25 cents per yard that cannot be duplicated.

MORE OF THEM USED.

There are probably more Singer sewing machines used in the United States than of any other one make. This is a very excellent guarantee that they are one of the very best machines. The points of merit are strength, durability, easy running and simple construction. Very little mechanism to get out of order makes repair bills small. When in need of a new sewing machine examine the Singer before purchasing any other make. B. Bergeron, agent, Bethel street.

AS A TOURIST SEES US

HE PAYS HONOLULU SOME HIGH COMPLIMENTS.

Says It Takes Courage to Offer High Class Drama, but the Courage is Justified by Honolulu.

Editor Star: Will you allow a visitor in Honolulu space to express his surprise and gratification at Saturday evening's dramatic entertainment at the opera house. My surprise, I have no doubt, proves that I am a stranger and a visitor here; for as I get better acquainted I find there is no occasion to be surprised at finding here hearty appreciation and support of all the arts and instrumentalities of refinement and cultured living one expects in the largest centers of European civilization. My gratification was in common with that of every one of the large and appreciative audience which saw the admirable presentation of Shakespeare's Miss Wallowford and her company gave.

But since I allowed myself to be betrayed into a surprise which a larger acquaintance with Honolulu would have saved me from, let me justify my own self-esteem by telling you why. I have been in many cities of the size of Honolulu, and larger, without seeing so admirable a theater or opera house. In appointments it seems to lack nothing, and is certainly a credit to the civic pride, the public spirit and the confidence in his townsmen's appreciation of the man who built it.

The audience that was there justified surprise in a man who is not yet accustomed to gauge things by the thoroughly up to date, best that there is, standard, which prevails in this community. The acquaintance of so many people in the United States, even with the name of Honolulu, is so recent that we naturally assume it must be colonial, provincial or frontier. But I never saw an audience that seemed more at home, more thoroughly accustomed to the amenities of the drama, and the play house. It had the confident expectancy of a gathering, which while it would tolerate nothing of the sham or "false alarm," had no fear that any one would attempt to offend on it. It was an audience, sure of itself, appreciative of the conventionalities of dress and demeanor expected, but not oppressed by them, nor afraid of them. It had the ease which comes from the accustomed. It was not surprised at itself. There was none of that self-consciousness that so manifestly marks the unaccustomed.

But complimentary as I am tempted to be, the local management which brought the company, and the company in coming, have paid a higher compliment to Honolulu and its people, than I can make. It takes courage to offer a season of Shakespearean drama in a place of this size, and added courage to bring a large company two thousand miles to present it. But in this case it is clear that courage is justified by knowledge and by the people of Honolulu are entitled to the dramatic consideration they are getting because they deserve it.

In the light of my fuller knowledge of the people of Honolulu, I am abashed now at the surprise I felt before Saturday evening's revelation. So I hide my personal identity in my class designation and sign myself

GOVERNMENT WANTS WATER. The government is looking to Manoa and Pauoa valleys for additional water to supply the city's needs.

Of course the water is not required now, but with the growth of the town it is felt that it may come in handy in a few years. Superintendent Andrew Brown will this afternoon be instructed to examine the water supply in those valleys and report on the same to the cabinet.

The Kahuku rioters were placed on trial in the police court this morning. Seventeen men refused to plead to the charge and stood trial. Several witnesses were examined by the prosecution. The case is still on.

POOR NEWSBOYS.

The newsboys of Boston are required to take out licenses to sell papers, the documents costing 25 cents each. "We expect to license 2,000 of them this year," said the clerk who issues the certificates. "Last year we had 1,800 and then the bars were taken down altogether, and anybody was allowed to sell papers during the war. I shall have a superintendent and two men on the streets, however, and any boy found selling papers improperly will be reported to the committee on licenses, which has said it will take away the licenses."—Republican Standard.

A NEW YORK PILOT BOAT

THE T. S. NEGUS ARRIVES FROM SAN DIEGO.

Is a Speedy, Yacht-like Craft, That Has Been in the Klondike Trade Since Her Pilot Days.

A two masted schooner with graceful cutter lines came sailing into the harbor this morning. Her graceful curves and her appearance of speed are due to the fact that she was formerly the New York pilot boat T. S. Negus. She retains the name, but she is fallen in estate. After buffeting the dangers of the Alaska seas and the worse dangers of the Klondike trade for two trips she was sold to her present owner and master Frank Manha, and now carries fertilizer.

When sail was abandoned for steam by the New York pilots a number of yacht like craft, speedy as the wind, were thrown upon the market. The T. S. Negus was one of them. The Klondike excitement about that time seemed to open another career and the Negus was brought around the Horn.

Her present owner says he was a grocer in San Diego for thirteen years, but his health failed, and he bought the Negus partly to travel in her in the hope of regaining his health and partly to use her in trading.

He sailed with her from San Diego April 6th. The vessel was consigned to Henry Waterhouse & Co., by H. P. Wood, the Hawaiian consul at San Diego. Her cargo consists of 1,500 bags of fertilizer, about 2 tons of salt, much of it fine table salt, a quantity of dried fish and a number of cases of lemons. She brought all told, nine men. Most of them came, it is said, attracted by the opportunity to see the Islands at a small expense.

Captain Manha says he experienced calms and light winds all the way. He may take freight back if it offers, but he wants to sell the schooner here. She is speedy and has ample passenger accommodations. She is now anchored in naval row near the City of Columbia.

POLICE STILL AT WORK.

Case of Chinese Girl Who Probably Attempted Suicide.

There have been no further developments today in the case of the young Chinese woman found hanging to a tree in Nuuanu valley. The police are continuing the investigation, and at the same time are waiting for the girl to recover sufficiently to tell her story. Soon after the hanging, and the girl was cut down, she was taken to the Queen's hospital. A short time later, however, her relatives removed her from there to her home.

GIVEN SIX MONTHS.

Salvador, the Spaniard, who assaulted a native boy a month ago and cut him almost to death, was arraigned in the district court this morning and pleaded guilty to the charge of assault and battery with a dangerous weapon. Judge Wilcox administered a lecture, and then sentenced the accused to six months imprisonment at hard labor.

CASE OF CRUELTY.

P. Mitchell was fined $2 in the police court this morning for cruelty to animals. He is a bus driver who a short time ago was driving an overloaded vehicle up Nuuanu valley and was arrested by Miss Wilder, humane officer.

AGAINST OLOWALE.

This afternoon O. Nawahine entered suit against the Olowale Sugar Company
